Solid stuff. Hope to see an update that includes subtraction, apparently I'm not quite as good at maths as I thought.. Good job Penny! I also learned how to program games in QBASIC when I was about your age some 25 years ago, and I now work in software development as a grown-up, so if you like doing it, I think you should stick with it and learn everything you can about programming.. This is extremely delightful.. This was great fun and a real challenge. A devilishly clever test of wit. I highly recommend to anyone seeking to improve themselves while having a good time. I eagerly await future offerings from this developer.. This is a fantastic game! And i already got much smarter!. Great job, Penny! Can't wait to see your next game!. I bought this game so that I could proclaim that I was there at the beginning of greatness. update: I voted this game for "Most Fun with a Machine" award in the 2018 Steam Awards.. You are such a great inspiration :) Go Penny!
